Easter Celebration Planned In Churches of Community

The Easter joy springs only out of Calvary's pain; 'Tis God, alone, takes us through death to life again.

As Holy Week approaches the end, churches throughout Washington C. H. and Fayette County today were putting the final touches on plans for one of the most elaborate Easter celebrations in years.

Short noon services at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church started Monday and came to an end Thursday.

Sponsored by the Fayette County Ministerial Association, each day's message was given by a different minister. On Monday, Rev. Francis T. McCarthy, pastor of the First Baptist Church, told of

Pair Indicted For Burglaries

NEWARK, April 10 — (P)—The Licking County grand jury Thursday indicted Katie Irving, 21, of Mansfield, on a second degree manslaughter count in the traffic death last Sunday of Mrs. Mattie Broadwell, 72, of Newark.

The jury, reporting after two and a half-day session, returned 23 true bills, including four secret indictments.

George Scott and Robert Wilson of Lancaster were indicted on four separate counts of burglary. Police accuse them of being involved in burglaries in Hocking, Pickaway, Perry, Fairfield, Delaware and Franklin counties.

He must rotate all the names every so often, because the politicians feel that voters just mark the first name that pops up at the head of a column. There are 18 candidates for nomination whose names start with "B." This is roughly 23 percent of the total of 78 names on the ballot. And as you would expect, there are plenty of Browns on the ballot—five in all.

"Cleansing the Temple;" on Tuesday, Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, chose for his subject, "Render unto Caesar, That Which Is Caesar's;" Rev. Allan W. Caley, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, conducted the meditation on Wednesday and Rev. Harold J. Braden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the Maundy Thursday message.

The services started at 11:45 with 15 minutes of organ music by Clarence Barger.

The meditation period opened at noon with a hymn, the reading of passages from the Scripture and a prayer and ended with the brief sermon by the ministers.

They each attracted sizeable gatherings.

A UNION GOOD Friday service is to be held at Grace Methodist Church from noon until 2:45 P. M. Worshipers are to be free to enter or leave during the singing of any of the hymns.

Campaign Opens

CLEVELAND, April 10 — (P)—A Northern Ohio headquarter opened Thursday in Hotel Carter for Thomas J. Herbert who seeks the Republican nomination for governor. James T. Begg, who for 10 years was congressman from the old 13th District, is directing the Herbert campaign.

State Plowing Matches To Be Held On Fayette Hereford Ranch in 1953

The Fayette Hereford Ranch (formerly known as the McGhee Ranch) will be the site for the 1953 state plowing matches and field day, it was decided at a meeting held here Wednesday afternoon.

The ranch is located along the Robinson Road southeast of Washington C. H.

The service is divided into seven parts, based on the "Seven Last Words of Christ," with a different minister for the meditation for each of the seven words.

The first word—"Father, Forgive Them, for They Know Not What They Do"—was read by Rev. Francis T. McCarthy.

Tracy declared: "If we are going to have a one-man affair we might as well quit." Tracy submitted an ordinance passed May 8, 1893, regarding "Litter on Streets and Public Grounds," which also carried a provision for no deposit of any filth on lots. ## We Face a Real Crisis

(AN EDITORIAL)

At this moment the United States faces an internal crisis which threatens the entire future of our government.

If President Harry S. Truman persists in his present dictatorial attitude by throwing the entire official power of the U. S. government into seizure of plants of the huge steel industry, to enforce recommendations of a prejudiced Wage Stabilization Board, he is precipitating a situation which can prove the most crucial in nearly a century of our nation's history.

Truman's apparent determination to force the industry not only to meet new wage demands and thus increase the spiral of inflation, but also to completely unionize workers of the industry, is without precedent. It is clearly beyond the law and violates the principles of the Constitution of the United States.

By this action this country today sees a president set himself above law and Constitution. He is taking a definite step into Socialism.

If this action continues to be forced by government seizure, similar action in other great industries of the nation, easily could follow.

The president's distortion of facts and evasions in statements in presenting his views to the public, points him out as being completely lacking in the calmness and unprejudiced logic necessary to solve present difficulties. His position demands the clear thinking of a statesman. He proves himself a mere politician paying political debts.

He fails to tell all the truth which the public should know.

The people can only hope that from Congress and elsewhere in the nation, will come forth leadership to prevent us from traveling down the road to our country's ruin. It is closer than most of us realize.

State Plowing Matches To Be Held On Fayette Hereford Ranch in 1953

Engineers of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service checked the ranch to determine whether it would be suitable for the plowing matches, and they have now reported their findings to the executive committees of the Fayette County Soil Conservation Field Day.

The engineers, Eddie Karath and A. F. Kleinhenz, reported that the 1,300-acre farm was suitable for the field day.

Policemen and Firemen Seek Pay Increases

Livestock Odors, Payroll Tax Spice City Council Meet

With 30 citizens present and several matters up for discussion, the regular meeting of city council Wednesday night was filled with interest, but little was accomplished.

The Sam Coil livestock parking lot, a request of policemen and firemen for a heavy increase in pay and a discussion of financial problems occupied council most of the lengthy session.

Charles Jones, sanitarian of the health department, reported to the council on his findings during a three-hour investigation made in the Coil parking lot area.

He had interviewed 13 residents of the area, and 10 of them reported offensive odors from the livestock trucks parked in the lot.

FIVE QUESTIONS were submitted to the residents and their answers were noted to each question. Jones said at the time of the investigation there was no offensive odor from the lot.

Sam Coil, owner of the lot, was present, upon invitation of council, and said that the trucks were kept clean, and every effort made to eliminate odors. He invited council and others to visit the lot at any time and make inspections.

Several councilmen spoke of having visited the parking lot on Wednesday afternoon. They said they found no odor.

Coil said that to show how clean the trucks were kept, the trucks had been used for hauling sugar and potatoes back from New York.

SANITARIAN JONES informed him that such use of the trucks was a clear violation of the state law.

Two or three residents of the area spoke of the offensive odors arising from the lot at various times, but said part of the time there were no offensive odors.

Councilman Floyd Tracy said the complaints have been up for two years and it was time to do something about it, and that the city needed a city manager to enforce the law to take care of the situation.

Tracy declared: "If we are going to have a one-man affair we might as well quit." Tracy submitted an ordinance passed May 8, 1893, regarding "Litter on Streets and Public Grounds," which also carried a provision for no deposit of any filth on lots. It was read by the clerk so that the councilmen could be advised on the law.

THURSDAY NIGHT'S council session, apparently, was one of the contributing factors in the decision. Then, Chairman William Clarke was forced to check another outburst of personal criticism by Councilman Floyd Tracey. And a group of opponents to an income or payroll tax renewed its attack through Charles Hire, its spokesman.

In his letter of resignation directed to the people, Hill minced no words in expressing his feeling as he said "I will not take this abuse, for my service as city manager has been motivated solely by my personal sense of duty."

It has been brought out in recent meetings of council that city manager salaries for cities of this size run from $6,000 to $9,000 a year.

In another paragraph he warned "qualified men and women... refuse to represent you because they will not stand for the public criticism and ridicule."

He paid tribute to "most of the councilmen serving you because they love Washington C. H." and expressed his appreciation to them and "the loyal employees of our city for their devotion to duty and their high purposes and moral standards."

In his letter of resignation there also was an appeal to the people to inform themselves on the questions and issues and problems confronting the city.

Hill is now a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from this district.

But, the work and the worry of the city manager's office had been bearing down on his health for some time. About a month ago, he suffered a nervous collapse and heart attack that sent him to the hospital for two weeks.

Hill Resigns Position As City Manager Here

Winston W. Hill, who took over as the city manager of Washington C. H. five years ago in the emergency following the unexpected resignation of Robert Epply, Thursday morning offered his resignation to "council and the people."

At the time he agreed to take on the duties, he made it plain that it was only on a temporary basis, and until a regular city manager could be employed by council.

He was the city solicitor at that time and agreed to fill both offices at a salary less than that paid the former city manager. He has been drawing $1,800 a year as city manager and $1,200 a year as city attorney.

Winston W. Hill

Council never employed a regular city manager and Hill continued to fill the two positions.

Although Hill was known to be chafing under the attacks made on him personally and bitter opposition to some of council's policies he believed to be in the best interests of the city, his resignation came more or less unexpectedly.

THURSDAY NIGHT'S council session, apparently, was one of the contributing factors in the decision. ## Merchant Cop Held as Thief

STEUBENVILLE, April 10 — (P)—For 22 years Carl Walker, 66, patrolled the downtown shopping district at night protecting the property of about 100 merchants who employed him.

He is now off the job—permanently. Detectives arrested him for stealing women's clothes and furniture and giving it to Mrs. Mary Carducci, 30, whose husband is serving time in Ohio Penitentiary announcing to the Council and people that I am resigning as city manager effective as soon as a successor is chosen.

"During the five years I have served you as city manager, the council and I have endeavored to give you the best municipal administration possible.

"During this period it was necessary to persuade the good men of your Council to accept the job or to stand for re-election. We have many other qualified men and women in Washington C. H. who refuse to represent you because they will not stand for public criticism and ridicule. A good man does not like to take such abuse.

"Most of your present councilmen are serving you because they love Washington Court House. I give these men and their predecessors my sincere thanks for the wonderful job they have done. I hope that the people appreciate their services. I also thank the loyal employees of our city for their devotion to duty and for their high purposes and moral standards.

"During my term there has always been fair and honest criticism and disagreements, but now it has degenerated to the petty—nasty and personal. I will not take this abuse, for my service as city manager has been motivated solely by my personal sense of duty, realizing that in a democracy every good citizen must give his energy and whatever talent he possesses to his community.

"We have in our town a government which is sought after by most communities but because of political chicanery and interference those communities cannot get the city manager form. We must have constructive citizen interest to maintain good government.

Truce Talkers Not Even Talking

MUNSAN, April 10 — (P)—For the fifth straight day truce negotiators made no move toward ending the fighting in Korea.

They met and adjourned. That was all. Thursday's session lasted six minutes. That brought the grand total for five meetings this week to 30 minutes and 30 seconds.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang said Thursday the Communists had no objection to moving truce supervisory negotiations back from the sub-delegation level to the staff officer level if the Allies want to do it. Wednesday, Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison said the Allies have no objection to such a move if the Reds want to do it.

But neither side said it wanted to do that—or anything else. Each side appeared to be waiting for the other to take the initiative.

WHAT THE Reds want is the privilege of repairing military airfields during an armistice and acceptance of Soviet Russia as a "neutral nation" to help police the

Phone Strike Now Spreading

WASHINGTON, April 10 — (P)—Telephone workers over most of the nation stayed away from work Thursday, refusing to pass picket lines thrown up by striking Western Electric Co. equipment workers.

Actually only 16,000 Western Electric men, plus 61,000 phone operators and other employees in Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey and Northern California, were out on strike. Their walkout began four days ago.

But other Bell Telephone System employees became idle after the Western Electric strikers, with members in 43 states, began picketing on orders of Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CIO Communications Workers of America.

The government pinned its main hopes for a settlement on negotiations in Detroit between the union and Michigan Bell. After meeting for a straight 22 hours, the session adjourned with both sides indicating progress in the talks.

Kids Use Phone Too Much, So Papa Has Their Own Put In

COLUMBUS, April 10 — (P)—Hey, Mom and Pop, been having trouble getting the kids away from the telephone lately?

Take a lesson from the Dickinson family of Columbus. They used to have the same trouble. They don't anymore.

Papa, Hal D. Dickinson, figured there was only one solution—give the kids their own phone. So he did, complete with private listing in the telephone directory.

The Dickinsons have five telephones on two outside lines. Three of the phones are on the number under Papa Dickinson's name. The other two instruments are for the kids, listed under papa's name in the directory as "children's telephone."

"We started this thing five years ago when all seven of our children were living at home," said Mrs. Dickinson. "Five of our children are still here, and are still making a lot of calls."

The Dickinsons' monthly phone bill runs to about $30, but they feel it's well worth it. They've figured the family makes 36 calls a day.

Besides Papa and Mama, the family includes Frances, 22, Ruth, 20, Pete, 14, Bill, 11, and Tim, 6. And if you have children those ages you know how busy the telephone can be.

What happens when someone calls the children on the wrong telephone?

"I tell them politely to call back on the children's line," says Papa Dickinson.

Crash Kills 37

TOKYO, April 10 — (P)—U. S. Air Force sources say the crash of a Japan Airlines plane 65 miles south of Tokyo Wednesday killed all 37 persons aboard, including three Americans.

The Eighth Army announced that UN ground forces inflicted 2,680 Communist casualties last week. The claims listed 1,388 Reds killed, 1,124 wounded, and 48 taken prisoner.

Action along the battle front continued light. A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said Wednesday was one of the most inactive since mid-February. The temperature went above 80 for the first time this year Wednesday and continued warm Thursday.

Allied planes patrolled in clear skies Thursday morning, hitting rail lines and supply dumps. B-26 light bombers and Marine planes flew 75 sorties against Communist highways Wednesday night. Twelve B-29 Superforts made night attacks on Red rail bridges, railroad marshalling yards and troop concentrations behind the lines.

The U. S. Battleship Iowa, the Cruiser St. Paul, and the Destroyers Henderson and MacKenzie hammered Red positions on North Korea's east coast Wednesday. On the west coast, planes from the British Carrier Glory struck hard at Communist troops and gun positions.

Lad, 3, Killed

MOUNT VERNON, April 10 — (P)—Three-year-old John Magill was killed by a truck here Wednesday. Mrs. Jack Magill, the boy's mother, said he got away from her and ran into the street.

The President, at his news conference Thursday, declined comment on the Randall blast, said only that he hopes a labor-management agreement will soon be worked out.

Steelman, acting defense mobilization, is the government's top mediator in the latest series of contract talks. The union says it will not settle for less than the Wage Stabilization Board's recommendations.

These include a three-installment pay boost totaling 17½ cents an hour and other benefits worth slightly more than eight cents, plus a union shop.

INDUSTRY says it must have a price increase of $12 a ton—steel is now selling around $110 a ton—to pay the extra wages.

Seizure of the giant industry touched off a bitter legal battle between the steel companies and the government, which promises to be fought right up to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The industry lost the first round Wednesday when a federal judge here refused to issue an immediate order nullifying the seizure.

Three companies which lost Wednesday's preliminary court fight also have filed a petition for an injunction against seizure—a legal move which asks the court to find the President's order unconstitutional and illegal.

Work Contract Negotiations Started Again

New Pact Sought In Parley Led by Presidential Aide

WASHINGTON, April 10 — (P)—The steel industry began Thursday to heat up its cooled furnaces for full-scale production.

Meanwhile, both industry and the Steelworkers union were summoned to a meeting with John R. Steelman in another attempt to reach agreement on a new work contract.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, nominal boss of the $8 billion industry, was visited Wednesday night by presidents of nine big steel companies.

"Without exception I was assured by those present that, except for purely mechanical or temporary impediments, all operations would be resumed immediately," Sawyer said.

He scheduled a meeting with CIO President Phillip Murray. The union has told its 650,000 basic steel workers to get back on the job.

THE PRESIDENT'S order for government seizure of the mills set off an angry dispute on Capitol Hill that brought various proposals to meet the situation. They ranged from a demand that Congress declare the seizure action illegal to a bill that would give the President specific power to seize industrial plants.

Truman threw the squabble upon the lawmakers' doorstep with a message inviting them to write their own rules for handling such a situation if they didn't like what he did.

The reaction of candidates campaigning for presidential nominations varied, mostly according to political lines.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, seeking the Republican nomination, said Truman had "usurped" the powers he used. Harold E. Stassen, another GOP hopeful, said seizure resulted from neglect of presidential duty, that seizure does not solve the wage dispute.

Another Republican, Gov. Earl Warren of California, called the seizure "bad policy" and said if his party were in power it would not "claim those powers."

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, seeking the Democratic nomination, said he did not question the President's power to seize the steel mills but declared the dispute should never have been allowed to reach such a point.

IN AN ANGRY attack on President Truman and Murray, a top industry official said Wednesday night that seizure "discharges a political debt to the CIO" and that Murray "now gives Harry S. Truman a receipt marked 'paid in full'."

Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Co., told a nationwide radio and TV audience that "if any man now threatens the country's safety for lack of steel, that man's name is Phil Murray."

Union aides said the attack was "so extreme and unwarranted as not to deserve a reply."

Murray, however, denounced Randall's statement as a "malicious and deliberate lie... an insult to President Truman and me."

The President, at his news conference Thursday, declined comment on the Randall blast, said only that he hopes a labor-management agreement will soon be worked out.

Engineers Hear Talk By Steel Executive

Some 40 engineers who are members of the southern Ohio chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers attended a meeting of the group Wednesday night in the Hotel Washington.

The principal speaker of the evening was L. A. Paddock formerly the president of the American Bridge Co., a division of the U. S. Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh.

Paddock, who now lives on a farm in Fayette County, told about some of his experiences during his lifetime, describing how he surveyed the possibilities of putting a tunnel under the Detroit River.

The speaker said he was paid $80 a month for his work in conducting the survey. Later it was decided to build the tunnel, linking Windsor, Ont. with Detroit. A bridge has since been erected between the Motor Capital and the neighboring city.

Clifford Hughes, who operates the Ohio Wesleyan farms in Fayette County and who is a county commissioner, was the other speaker on the program.

Final Tribute Paid To James Larrimer

Funeral services were held for James Rice Larrimer at 2 P. M. Wednesday at his residence, 402 Eastern Avenue.

Rev. W. S. Alexander, a retired minister and personal friend who conducted the services, read from the Scripture, offered prayer and delivered the funeral sermon that was a personal tribute to Mr. Larrimer.

Two hymns, "In The Garden" and "In The Sweet By and By," were sung by Mrs. Polly Conway and Mrs. Catherine Vernon.

The floral remembrances were taken care of by the pallbearers, Elmer Simerl, Robert Jefferson, Gordon Cowdery, Raymond Scott, Frank Whiteside and Martin G. Morris.

Interment was in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

Woman Is Fined For Bootlegging

The first jury trial held in municipal court here came to an abrupt end on Thursday morning, when Pearl Johnson, John Street, pleaded guilty to a bootlegging charge (selling liquor without a permit) and was fined $150 and costs by Judge R. L. Brubaker.

Judge Brubaker also sentenced her to 30 days in the workhouse and suspended the workhouse term pending good behavior for two years.

She was represented by Charles S. Hire.

Costs in the case were in excess of $40 due to the calling of 10 prospective jurors and a number of witnesses, who were not used.

City Solicitor W. W. Hill represented the state.

City Council Meet

and Chairman William Clarke told him that he must confine his remarks to the subject and not deal in personalities.

After a great deal of discussion and hearing various persons talk on the subject, council adopted a suggestion made by Councilman Ronald Cornwell that the next time any resident finds objectionable odors, they are to call some member of council, and members will go to the scene at once and investigate.

Coil also said he had purchased a new lot and would park trucks farther away from some of those who had raised objection to the proximity of the trucks.

During the discussion Taylor asked Hill if the remedy rested with council or the health department, and Hill said the health department had charge of such matters.

HILL ALSO said any resident could file charges in such cases, or bring a court action to abolish anything found to be a nuisance or menace to health.

A report of municipal court receipts and expenditures for the month of March was read and filed. It showed total receipts of $4,812.38 for the month, and disbursements in a like amount.

Policeman Ed Williams spoke of inability to hold other jobs because of necessity to report in municipal court as witnesses.

City Manager Hill said the requests had been made by the firemen and policemen two or three times, and limited income of the city had held up action on the request.

FIREMAN ROBERT WEST asked for action of council by May 1.

Chairman William Clarke said council had considered taking up the matter later in the meeting.

Attorney Charles S. Hire, who at a previous meeting spoke against a proposed income tax to finance city expenses and who had been invited to be present representing a committee of protestors against the tax, spoke at some length.

"Let's try to work out the problem in a business way," he said. "Before we can assist you in any way, we must know how much money you need and what it is for," he added.

HE THEN SET forth a request for definite information regarding probable income from a payroll or income tax, whether it would be

Ahead—the Nicest Miles in the World!

Well, the day has come! You have your beautiful Golden Anniversary Cadillac—and are off on that cross-country journey you've so eagerly awaited.

You're full of hope and anticipation—but almost afraid it's too good to be true. Can any car perform and handle the way people say this one does?

You come to the end of the street that opens into the cross-town thoroughfare—and the big, easy-acting brakes settle you down to the softest, smoothest stop you ever experienced in all your life.

You touch the throttle, and the great engine starts you out like the flight of an arrow—smoothly and swiftly and quietly.

Almost before you know it, a light turns red—and, once again, that easy, velvety stop. And then the green—and again that swift, eager move into action.

Stop and go—red and green . . . and pretty soon it dawns upon you that you never dreamed of driving a car that handled and performed like this.

Wonderful in city traffic—no doubt about it!

And then the cars thin out about you—the traffic lights stretch farther and farther apart—and you find yourself on the open road.

Instinctively, your foot goes down on the throttle; but, quickly, it eases up again. For you find yourself really rolling in a couple of hundred feet! So you do a little experimenting until you find the spot where the accelerator belongs for sane and sensible driving—and then you settle back and relax.

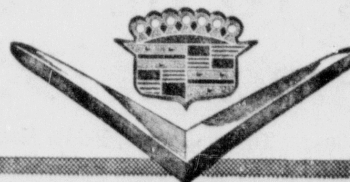

You scarcely seem to be moving at all. You handle the wheel with the weight of your hand. You're comfortable—resting—at peace with the highway! The sun rises higher and the road beckons on.

"Where did we plan on stopping tonight?"
"Better take a look at the map and see what's on down the line. We're going to get a lot farther than I ever dreamed we could!"

Yes, it's true what they say about Cadillac.

Better come in and see it—and drive it—while you're in the mood!

Unemployment Compensation Funds Diverted?

Confirming recent rumors that unemployment compensation funds have been used by other departments of the federal government, reports now reveal that $1,250,000,000 of such funds have been spent by the government in that manner.

A bill has been introduced in Congress which would put a stop to this practice. Under the terms of the measure $50,000,000 would be kept in reserve in the national treasury, and the surplus returned to the various states, to be administered under state control.

The bill is opposed by the administration, which wants to keep the money in Washington, D. C.

When bureaucrats go hog wild in spending taxpayers' money they seem to proceed on the slogan, "Here are unspent funds, let's put them in circulation."

Millions of workers have found comfort in the knowledge that they have been insured against unemployment, and will enjoy retirement benefits through their payroll deductions and the generosity of employers. To squander these funds for other purposes is inexcusable.

There is little hope that the $1,250,000,000 will be recovered, but there should be no additional diversion of such funds.

Important Test

In an effort to test its curative possibilities a New Jersey drug concern will distribute free 2,500,000 tablets of the new drug reported to be effective in the treatment of tuberculosis. Experiments already conducted have brought encouraging results, a majority of those treated showing improvement.

The tablets will go to 250 hospitals scattered throughout the nation, but only to those having more than 100 beds which are now engaged in treatment of the disease.

Other shipments will go to several foreign lands, including Cuba, Mexico and countries in Central America where tuberculosis is widespread. Other experiments will be conducted in Canada.

Never before in medical history have such complete tests of a new drug been conducted, nor such large quantities been given free of charge by the manufacturer.

Medical science in recent years has discouraged endorsement of discoveries that have not been subjected to drastic tests. These widespread experiments will serve to ascertain whether TB germs will become resistant to the drug, and to prove its effectiveness generally.

Tuberculosis has been a killer for hundreds of years, and has been controlled by various treatments, but a cure would prove a blessing to humanity beyond immediate appraisal.

Less Disquieting

Repeated at regular intervals is the story of Russia's naval strength, particularly that part which has to do with submarines. Often it has been claimed that Russia has a submarine fleet capable of controlling both oceans, which in the event of war would roam at will, destroying shipping and making it difficult for the United States to win the conflict.

The latest report is less disturbing, and has whittled Russia's strength under water by a considerable margin.

If Russia went to war today, according to the latest survey, her underwater operations would have to be confined to European coastal waters. She has no submarines capable of threatening American shores. Total strength lies between 300 and 400 vessels, few of which are ultra-modern. These facts have been developed at congressional hearings on defense.

First, Laugh At Yourself--

CHICAGO—(P)—One way to success is to conquer the world. Another way is to build your own private world.

That is the way Burr Tillstrom chose a long time ago, when he was a child. Now at 34 he is America's crown prince of make believe. And millions share his private world.

It is the mad, wistful, happy world of "Kukla, Fran and Ollie," a television show about puppets and people that for five years has been turning children into grownups and grownups into children.

The show has been telecast through more than 1,000 performances, and its followers are addicts rather than fans. There are some who firmly believe that "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" have done more for Chicago than even Mrs. O'Leary's cow.

Among these better known boosters are such other stars of the entertainment and literary world as Helen Hayes, Robert Sherwood, Mary Martin, John Steinbeck and Margaret Truman.

The day I dropped by to see the show in action, Broadway Producer Leland Hayward and Playwright Russel Crouse also were there to view it. It is put on in a toy theater-studio big enough to hold only a dozen or so people.

The atmosphere was completely informal. Tillstrom came in, said hello, and quietly disappeared behind a screen. Fran Allison lolled comfortably in a chair. Then one by one the puppets appeared on the stage and began chatting with Fran. When Allie, the one-tooth dragon, came out, Krause said:

"That Ollie—he's such a sweet person."

It is this quality that gives the show its appeal. The puppets not only sturdily regard themselves as people—they manage to make everybody else feel that way about them, too.

After half an hour or so of this "warm-up" conversation, Burr and Fran and the rest of the troupe had a brief consultation about the general pattern of the show. But there was no written script, no tense rehearsal. A few moments later and the show went on—ad lib and relaxed.

Later I talked with Burr. Like many puppet masters he is shy and rather less articulate than the characters he has created. He prefers to speak through them.

"We don't try to get across any special message," he said, "except perhaps a spirit of kindness and group unity.

"It would never enter into the heads of any of the characters to be deliberately cruel. I don't believe I've ever met a deliberately cruel person in my life. If I have, I don't know it."

"People sometimes are unpleasant, but that usually reflects their own insecurity."

Burr is a bachelor. He likes to swim, go to the theater and the movies, do his own cooking.

"There are a million and one things I'd like to do in life, he said, "but mostly I just want to keep the spirit of Kukla and Ollie going."

So far he has resisted the temptation of exploiting his characters commercially. He has turned down offers by manufacturers who want to mass produce little Kukla and Ollie dolls for children.

"I don't want anybody else even working them as puppets," he said, "or buying them as pieces of cloth and cotton."

He has a fine sense of artistic integrity, a complete loyalty to these creature of his own imagination. He also has a good recipe for universal salvation.

"Being able to laugh at yourself," he remarked, "is the only thing that will save the world. It has to start with you."

Diet and Health Cause of Nosebleed Not often Serious

By HERMAN N. BUDNESEN

A nosebleed will usually stop by itself. It is only in exceptional cases that action by a physician is needed to stop the bleeding.

If enough time is allowed after the bleeding starts, about 80 per cent of nosebleeds will stop without any treatment whatever. It should be remembered that persistent bleeding can lead to severe anemia, and in such cases, prompt medical attention is required.

Many people have the false idea that a nosebleed means something is going wrong with the clotting of the blood. This is seldom the case.

In Older Person

The commonest cause of nosebleed in an older person is a gaping blood vessel, due to hardening of the arteries. Nosebleeds in an older person also tend to repeat themselves for about that long for scar tissue to form and protect the blood vessel.

There are many other causes of nosebleed. Bleeding may develop after injury from picking the nose, or from a bump or blow. Infections of the tumors, or a disturbance of the blood vessels may bring on bleeding.

Other Possible Causes

Other possible causes are high blood pressure, or increased pressure in the veins from whooping cough or severe bronchitis. Rheumatic fever is a common cause in children. Persons who travel by plane should remember that a sudden change of altitude may bring on a nosebleed.

Rare causes are certain blood diseases, such as hemophilia, in which the blood fails to clot, and leukemia, in which the blood contains too many white and too few red cells.

Persistent Nosebleed

If a nosebleed is very persistent, a physician can control it, as a rule, by finding the bleeding spot and treating it with chemicals or a cautery. Sometimes it is necessary to pack the nose with gauze.

A few cases may stop bleeding even after all this has been tried. It may then be necessary to tie off the arteries supplying the nose. This may have to be done on both sides and, of course, it stops the bleeding completely.

Most nosebleeds are not serious. When bleeding does persist, however, a physician should be seen at once, for he can find the cause and eliminate it.

Truman Partial to Eisenhower

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, April 10 — Although President Truman's desire for a Democratic victory with a man of his own philosophy next November is not questioned by party leaders, they are shaking their heads over his apparent partiality toward General Dwight D. Eisenhower as the Republican standard-bearer.

Consciously or unconsciously, Truman has helped the military hero's candidacy in several ways, from their viewpoint. In view of the president's mastery of the political trade, they cannot be blamed if they regard his actions as deliberate rather than accidental.

What makes his moves all the more puzzling is that the majority of Democratic strategists consider "Ike" the hardest man to defeat.

So does Truman. He has always maintained that, despite the party leaders' general relief at his abdication, he could win over Senator Taft. Naturally, his associates wonder why, in view of these circumstances, he should, accidentally or deliberately, extend a helping hand to SHAPE's retiring commander.

DISPLEASED — Their only explanation is that Truman is personally fond of "Ike" as a man and a politician. He knows that Eisenhower would carry out his foreign program, and it is his overseas policies on which the president relies for historical vindication.

The other is that he is not particularly happy over any of the possible Democratic nominees, with the probable exception of Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois. And it is known that the Illinois executive's reluctance toward the nomination has displeased Truman.

Although favoring Stevenson over all the other Democratic entries, the president would like the former to show more enthusiasm and aggressiveness for the great honor.

PSYCHOLOGY — The very timing of President Truman's renunciation notice had a pro-Eisenhower touch. This episode is considered extremely significant because it was thought the president would defer any declaration on running again so as to retain a maximum of influence over his last Congress and the national convention at Chicago until the last moment. He surprised everybody except Mrs. Truman.

Truman spoke out on the Saturday night before the Taft-Eisenhower clash in the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries. Whether or not so designed, it was a stroke that favored the general over the senator. Indeed, it may have been partially responsible for Ike's good showing in those states, even though he lost them.

Since Senator Taft had aimed his attack almost exclusively against Truman, the president virtually pulled the rug from under the Ohioan. And since many GOP-ers had looked upon Truman as their opponents' weakest candidate, it may have influenced them to shift to Eisenhower.

The same psychology may have affected Iowa and Michigan politicians, who gave Ike more delegates than his sponsors had expected a few weeks ago.

IRONIC — When Truman astonished the faithful with his Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner announcement, he did not name his favorite Democrat to succeed him as the party nominee and leader. Nor did he revive their spirits by promising that he would work hard for victory, although not a candidate himself.

It was not until the next afternoon that he made up for this omission, when he attended the reception to visiting politicians given by National Chairman Frank E. McKinney.

The need for such a pledge was impressed on him by Capitol Hill and White House advisers. They pointed out that the lack of such a declaration would give the impression that he was "running out on the gang."

However, regardless of Truman's innermost feelings toward Eisenhower, the latter's pre-convention promoters plan to capitalize on the Missouriian's apparent satisfaction at the prospect of the general as his successor.

This interpretation—or misinterpretation—of the Missouriian's 1952 attitude is ironic, in view of his record as a party loyalist.

DOLLAR — The Secret Service ruling against political use of authentic dollar bills in the 1952 campaign has cramped the strategy of Los Angeles Republicans. It has also imposed heavy costs on this sort of anti-Truman tactics.

Coast GOP-ers had devised a placard for display in store windows. The top line read "Time to elect a Republican." In an open space below, they pasted a large-size, old-fashioned "Republican dollar" with "George Washington looking the voter straight in the eye." Underneath was the "caption," "Republican dollar, used by the Republicans and worth 100 cents."

Further down was another space for pasting a small, current-type dollar, and the words, "not worth very much in these tax scandal days."

The Secret Service has barred this kind of advertising as an improper use of Uncle Sam's financial paper. So, the Republicans must resort to so-called "stage money" in future, pictorial attacks on the administration's fiscal program. Incidentally, the large, old-fashioned buck is now worth about $2.75 as a curio.

Mow-cured hay brought $10 per ton ABOVE MARKET PRICE

Paul C. Warner, Jr. discusses improved quality of mow-cured hay with L. D. Overmyer, Agriculture Engineer, Dayton Power and Light Company

Paul C. Warner, Jr. checks the 42-inch hay drying fan installed on the Paul Warner farm, R.R. 1, Greenville, Ohio.

ELECTRIC HAY-CURING EQUIPMENT pays for itself the first year

Electric hay curing on the Paul C. Warner farm proved itself a good investment. With 120 tons of hay to dry each year—not to mention the amount of corn dried with the same equipment—the Warners have plenty of work for their blower fan. With a herd of 50 head of dairy cows, of their own, they were interested in the improved quality of the finished hay. That quality brought an extra $10 per ton on the hay they sold—enough to pay for the blower fan outfit the first year.

Mow curing minimizes sun-bleaching, over drying and leaf shattering. It results in greener hay and there's less waste in handling. Tests show that mow-cured hay retains more proteins, carotene and vitamin A, advantages that show up in increased milk production.

For additional information on methods and equipment for electrical mow-curing, consult your county agent and the DP&L farm representative serving your neighborhood.

Impartiality No Virtue, Is Claim

It is so often suggested that columnists and editors be impartial, which generally means to be unhuman. For the human mind was made to think, to draw conclusions, to reach decisions. Impartiality is not a virtue; it is an escape from responsibility.

In the 1952 election, the issues are so important for the future not only of our country but of our civilization that impartiality can even be a weapon for our defeat. I saw the other day that the Governor of New Jersey, Alfred E. Driscoll, made a plea for unity, which is a lovely sounding word that dictators like Hitler and Stalin used as an opiate. Ferdinand and Isabella, back at the end of the fifteenth century in Spain, sought to enforce "unity" and destroyed a great empire.

Unity, in effect, means a total acknowledgement that free opinion is a vice. One accepts the dicta of those who rule, and kowtows to the superiority of the slogan over the debate.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, April 10.—It's no wonder if President Truman looked tired when he addressed the nation on TV this week. The steel dispute is just one more crisis in his seven White House years.

His critics may argue that many of his crises could have been avoided if he had anticipated them and acted sooner, although criticism always has the benefit of hindsight.

But the fact remains that since 1945, at home and abroad, he's been a man with a hose, running around, trying to put out three-alarm fires, even within his own official family.

He acted in the steel dispute, seizing the mills, just a few days after Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson quit. This was followed by his firing of Attorney General J. Howard McGrath who had found it necessary to sack Newbold Morris.

BEFORE THAT the President had to move in, over McGrath's head, and bounce an assistant attorney general, T. Lamar Caudle, in the midst of the scandals that were popping all over Washington.

And before Caudle there was the most sensational firing of all—Gen. Douglas MacArthur—which had been preceded by the dismissal of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

In an official family crisis between Henry Wallace, secretary of commerce, and James F. Byrnes, secretary of state, Truman sacked Wallace but after Byrnes departed he got into a feud with Truman and it isn't over yet.

There have been few peaceful weeks or even days for Truman. When he went on a Florida vacation last winter the smell of corruption in his administration drove him back to Washington.

And his most recent Florida trip was ruined by the steel dispute. The problem of government corruption—plastering mud on the RFC, the Justice Department, the Internal Revenue Bureau and the whole administration—has been a lingering and widening sore for him.

He had to buck the uproar, now subsided a bit, about Communists in government, knowing the continued congressional attacks in that direction were bound to weaken the faith of a lot of people in their government and him.

ALL THESE domestic mountains may in the end seem to Truman no bigger than ant-hills when compared with the nervous strain he must have undergone in making his big decisions on foreign affairs.

For it's in the foreign field, and not in domestic affairs, that he himself may expect history to judge him.

There was the decision to arm Greece and Turkey, which put the U. S. in a new relation to the rest of the world and meant abandoning the ancient isolation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Then came the Marshall Plan, a gigantic gamble to stop Communism without guns. When he found this wasn't enough he had to take the gigantic gamble of using guns—without firing them, if possible.

That was in creation of the Atlantic pact and arming Europe. But the Korean war, and his decision to take America into it, was the most drastic crisis of all and he's still being lashed for the way he's carried it out.

Now that he's 68 the accumulated crises of these seven years must be a little trying, even for his sturdy body, which is why he must during Ohio's Sesquicentennial year.

Walter Seifried, manager of the ranch, was present at the meeting, and he was named as the chairman of the contest committee for the plowing matches.

The old ranch will also be the site for the 1952 county plowing matches, land judging contest and air tour.

Plans have been made to hold the first state wide land judging contest in the state in 1953 in connection with the state plowing matches.

Committees which will plan the giant 1953 event as well as the 1952 activities have been set up. In most cases they are the same committees which handled the 1951 district plowing match and field day, which were held on the Alpha Farms.

MEMBERS OF the committee passed a motion approving the holding of the county and state plowing matches on the Fayette Hereford Ranch.

The entire committee will meet in May to set the exact date for the county plowing matches.

The state plowing matches for this county stemmed from an original suggestion made by Ralph Penn that the soil conservation field day committee undertake some worthwhile agricultural project during the 1953 Sesquicentennial year.

But he's still President until next January. Since his White House term has been one crisis after another, we probably haven't seen them all yet or, maybe, the worst.

Mrs. Frank Dudley today is the new president of the Sunnyside Parent-Teachers Association.

She was chosen at the election which highlighted the business session following the covered dish supper. Other officers of the unit named to serve with her are Mrs. Paul Dougherty, first vice president; Leo J. Whiteside, the school principal, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Angus, secretary and Mrs. George Naylor, treasurer.

The new administration was selected by acclamation when the slate was presented by the nominating committee made up Mrs. Robert Edgington, chairman, Mrs. Frank Lentz, Mrs. Howard Brooks and Prin. Whiteside.

Mrs. Robert Moats, the retiring president, called the meeting to order and presided during the business session.

After the Lord's Prayer had been recited in unison, the customary reports of the secretary, treasurer and committee heads were given. For the most part they were routine.

THE PROGRAM, in charge of Prin. Whiteside, was a triple feature. The sixth grade chorus of boys and girls, under the direction of Mrs. George Pensyl, sang four selections and then gave two square dance numbers. Sally Deering played "Strolling Harp Player" as a piano solo.

Mrs. Charles Hurtt, president of the City PTA Council, reported on the PTA convention held in Columbus and announced that a one-day "workshop" on the PTA program was to be held at Central College on June 13. The Sunnyside PTA voted to send Mrs. Moats to this meeting.

Supt. Stephen Brown analyzed the school survey for the gathering and explained the overcrowded conditions in the city's five elementary schools. He also outlined the objectives and accomplishments to date of the citizens committee and the school board which have been seeking some solution for the building needs. He urged members of the Sunnyside PTA to PARIS, April 10.—(AP)—Former French Premier Edouard Daladier said Wednesday he did not recall talking with William C. Bullitt about "two brothers named Hiss" in the U. S. State Department.

Daladier said he did not recall either the name Hiss or a 1939 conversation with Bullitt, then U. S. Ambassador to France. Bullitt told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee in Washington Tuesday that Daladier told him late in 1939 "two brothers named Hiss" were Soviet agents. Alger Hiss, former high official in the State Department, now is serving a five-year prison term for perjury for denying he was a Soviet agent. ## Federal Expansion Expensive; Comparative Figures Show Rise In Cost to American Taxpayer

By GEORGE S. BENSON

With very little assistance from the federal government, the United States made tremendous progress during the half century from 1850 to 1900. There were some depressions and hardships but these conditions only temporarily slowed down the dynamic power of private enterprise with its incentives and competitive market system.

During the 50 years preceding 1900, the federal government was hardly noticeable; it scarcely touched the lives of businessmen and employees, housewives, doctors, lawyers and candlestick makers. The citizenry as a whole was law abiding and possessed of high moral integrity.

The relationship existing between the federal government and the states and citizens in 1900 might be likened to the relationship that exists today in many nationwide service organizations. For instance, a local civic club—Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary—holds membership in a national organization. There is a national headquarters. But it is far away and participates scarcely at all in the local club's affairs.

The local civic club subscribes to the principles set forth in the national charter of its organization, occasionally gets one of its members elected to a national office, sends two or three members to the organization's national convention, and levies an assessment of $2 or $3 a year on each member to defray the cost of operating the national headquarters. Otherwise, the local club runs its own business, hardly aware of the existence of the national headquarters. That's about the kind of relationship our citizens and states had with their federal government 50 years ago.

In 1900, members of the civic club "U. S. A."—the American citizens—were paying an average of only $3.88 each in taxes per year to defray the total cost of operating the federal government. A family of five thus was paying an average of $19.40 a year in all forms of Federal taxes. Today that's hard to believe. On the basis of the present federal budget, the bite placed on each citizen is averaging $477 a year; and a family of five, $2,375. That's an increase since 1900 of 12,200 per cent in the cost of federal government to the individual citizen!

In 1900, after a period of the greatest economic progress a people had ever known, the nation's debt was only $1,262,000,000, amounting to a mere $15 per person for the 76,000,000 population of that day, or $75 for a family of five. Thus, in these 4900 figures on per capita debt ($15) and cost of government ($3.88 a year), we see that activities of the federal government were small, an insignificant factor in national progress.

A growing nation, a progressing nation was scarcely aware of the existence of a federal government. That's an important fact to remember.

In contrast today, our federal government is a great sprawling dominating bureaucracy—interceding in everybody's business, it seems; getting in everybody's hair; holding a hand in everybody's pocketbook; smothering out local self-government and citizen independence. In 50 years we have gone a long way into government regimentation bit by bit. As a people, we have made economic progress but the sound portion of this progress has been made in spite of and not because of the growth and big spending of the federal government.

Today our future economic progress is seriously jeopardized. With the expenditure of the present 1952 budget of $71,594,000,000, the national debt will be $260,222,000,000, averaging $1,733 per person. When we consider this together with the average yearly tax of $477 per person, we see in true light how the present income and future income of every family is being crippled by big spending government.

It is true, of course, that quite a bit of the spending in recent years has been due to war and the threat of war. It is also true that dishonesty, graft and waste on a huge scale has been uncovered. The fact is apparent that with honesty, good management and common sense in handling of public funds the proposed budget could be cut in half.

We, as citizens, must take action to curb the power and wasteful spending of the federal government—as a measure of self preservation.

Autoist Killed

NEWARK, April 10—(AP)—Howard Doup, 47, of Mount Vernon was fatally injured Tuesday when his auto collided with a truck on U. S. Route 16, five miles east of here.

A THRILLER THAT WILL MAKE you ask "would you dare to spend the night in a house of terror with an insane killer as your host?" is coming to the Palace Theater Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Entitled "Voodoo Man," it stars Bela Lugosi, shown above in a scene from the picture. Also on the bill will be a western, "Raton Pass," starring Dennis Morgan.

Probe at Buckeye Lake Is Ordered

COLUMBUS, April 10—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche plans to ask health and conservation directors to investigate sanitary regulations on state-owned property at Buckeye Lake.

One lake property renter told Lausche he was unable to comply with the strict rules at Buckeye Lake. The State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources has been refusing to renew leases on state-owned property where renters fail to comply with regulations.

Sanitary regulations prohibit dumping of raw sewage into streams and require safe distances between wells and septic tanks. Officials said some of the lake-side cottages have been crowded onto lots too small to permit compliance with regulations.

Youth from Near Here Killed In Korea Awarded Silver Star

Mrs. Andrew Bennett, mother of Pfc. Raymond Bennett, who was killed in action in Korea Sept. 19, 1951, received the Silver Star medal this week for her son's gallant service in the U. S. Marine Corps.

The medal was presented to Mrs. Bennett of the Lewis Road, by Major M. L. Taylor at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Port Columbus, and the citation was read at that time.

The Purple Heart medal was mailed to Mr. and Mrs. Bennett three weeks ago.

THE BENNETTS' 18-year-old son's citation mentions how he gave his life carrying wounded soldiers and ammunition while under heavy enemy fire.

The citation reads: "For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action against the enemy while serving with a Marine infantry company in Korea Sept. 19, 1951. Serving as an ammunition bearer for a mortar squad Pfc. Bennett displayed exceptional courage and initiative when, upon moving with the squad into newly-seized positions, he observed several wounded comrades lying in exposed positions under withering enemy fire.

"Disregarding completely his own personal safety, he fearlessly crawled forward over fire-swept ground to drag one wounded man to safety, and then volunteered to serve as a stretcher bearer, making repeated trips over tortuous terrain, and carrying vitally-needed ammunition on his return trips."

"WHILE PROCEEDING courageously and despite near physical exhaustion on one downward trip, he was struck by a burst of enemy fire and fell mortally wounded, gallantly giving his life for his country."

"His great personal bravery and unwavering devotion to his comrades were a source of inspiration to all members of the command. Private First Class Bennett's heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Pfc. Bennett enlisted in the Marine Corps Feb. 1, 1951 and he arrived in Korea August 3. He received his basic training at Parris Island, S. C.

Present for the brief ceremony at Columbus was Mrs. Bennett and Pfc. Bennett's aunt, Mrs. Charles Keaton of Washington C. H.

Church Bingo Bus Service Is Halted

COLUMBUS, April 10—(AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has ordered eight Pennsylvania and Ohio bus firms to halt regular service to a church bingo game in Campbell, near Youngstown.

Chief Bus Enforcement Officer Hanley Cone told the companies Tuesday night he would prefer charges against them if they fail to go along with the order. Cone did not specify the charges against individual companies but said some of the Pennsylvania firms have not paid Ohio bus tax and some are giving regular service under a charter permit. Passengers were going to bingo games at St. Joseph's Church in Campbell.

Fumes Kill Pair

DEFIANCE, April 10—(AP)—Police Tuesday found the bodies of Charles Smith, 23-year-old Norton, Va., foundry worker, and Mrs. Darl Grant, 25-year-old waitress of near Defiance, in a parked car in a downtown area. Dr. D. J. Slosser, coroner, said the pair had been dead about 12 hours from carbon monoxide fumes.

Only 220 DPs Sign Up With Yankee Army

HEIDELBERG, April 10.—After a year of effort, only 220 displaced persons have been recruited in Europe for the U. S. Army. The quota for these aliens was set at 12,500. Army authorities frankly doubt they will ever get a tenth of them. When the alien enlistment law was passed by Congress, many expected that Europe's young refugees from war and Communism would flock to American colors by many thousands. A spokesman at the Army's European headquarters here gives this explanation for the meager result: Five thousand aliens from 11 countries have applied to join the Army, but 1,000 of them never showed up to pursue their applications. About 750 failed to meet requirements of age (18-35), no dependents and that they must not be a citizen of Germany or any country in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Another 1,500 failed to pass the high physical, intelligence and aptitude tests. "A good number" was rejected as security risks—suspected of affiliation with Nazi, Fascist or Communist organizations. There still are 1,100 applications pending and perhaps 180 new applications coming in each month. Gold often is found in rocks so old that they contain no fossils or very few fossils, indicating they were formed before life existed on earth or during the very early development of life.

Fires in India Mystify Natives

CALCUTTA, April 10.—Reports from the village of Bihars Durgaganj say villagers are terror stricken by a mysterious outbreak of fire every day exactly at noon. A different hut has been going up in flames each day for the past week. They have sacrificed goats and chickens to the fire god and have called on both Hindu and Moslem religious leaders for help in appeasing the "evil spirit." The village is 300 miles west of Calcutta.

Many insects live only in association with plants, for instance those who live all or part of their life cycles in the wood of trees. # Freedom Fair In Mansfield Being Readied

State Department
To Beam Story to Iron Curtain Area

MANSFIELD, April 10 — (P)—A four-day "Freedom Fair" to tell the story of American freedom and free enterprise in a small city is being planned by local industries and civic groups. It will be April 19 through 22.

Sponsored by Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, the fair was planned originally as a local exhibit to show people in Mansfield and the surrounding area what freedom really is.

But word of the fair spread quickly, and it assumed a larger significance when the State Department decided to spread the "Mansfield story" throughout Europe.

The fair will consist of some 100 displays and exhibits by industry, commerce and civic groups in the community. Its theme will be "freedom"—the freedom that has made Mansfield a typical prosperous city, and America the most powerful nation in the world.

THE STATE Department has assigned photographers, writers, movie cameramen and radio teams to cover the event. It plans to tell the Mansfield story of Democracy in action to thousands of persons abroad. It will use the Voice of America, foreign newspapers and various other publications that are circulated behind the Iron Curtain.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche will preside at formal opening ceremonies Saturday, April 19. Appearing on the same program will be Kenneth D. Wells, president of Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa.

The committee planning the event has invited Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York to speak Sunday. An invitation also has gone to Robert J. Vogel, American businessman imprisoned for two years in Communist Hungary.

The fair will be held in an Air National Guard hangar at Mansfield Municipal Airport. The hangar has 100,000 square feet of space and all of it will be used for exhibits.

Besides industries, others who will have exhibits are local doctors, public library, religious groups, schools, Boy Scouts, 4-H clubs and welfare organizations.

Farm-borrowers Told To Pay Up

WASHINGTON, April 10 — (P)—The government has announced that farmer-borrowers must pay off price support loans on about 150 million bushels of farm-stored grains this spring and summer or surrender them to Uncle Sam as payment of the loans.

Loans will not be extended beyond maturity dates, which range from April 30 to July 31, the Agriculture Department said, because the government has plenty of storage space now to care for them.

A host of tiny electric switches, commonly known as relays, function in transmitting a call through a dial telephone central office.

"YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE ONES that broke the line," was the comment of the three Washington C. H. fishermen shown above with their string of large mouth bass. It took the three anglers only a short time to land the 17½ pounds of fish. They started fishing at Lake Hope, in Vinton County, about 2 P. M. Wednesday. They started hitting about 6 o'clock and an hour later they had their string full. From left to right in above picture are Kenny Baker, Herbert Rees and Willard Holdren, who is holding the largest catch—a four pounder.

Some Installment Controls Lifted

WASHINGTON April 10 — (P)—The Federal Reserve Board has lifted installment credit controls from all articles costing less than $100.

Previously, goods costing less than $50 had been exempted. The board's "Regulation W" governing installment credit requires a one-third down payment on most articles, with 18 months to pay. The new relaxation was the third in recent weeks. Earlier the board removed credit controls from older used cars, and lifted any requirement as to down payments on home repairs and remodeling.

Warren Urging 'Forward' Look

NEW YORK, April 10 — (P)—Gov. Earl Warren told a Republican dinner audience Tuesday night the party should nominate a progressive presidential candidate who would not "turn back the clock."

"We cannot rely upon an 'against' campaign to win the election in November," Warren said. "We must convince the American people that we are thinking in terms of forward action for their welfare. We must not be afraid of the word 'welfare.'"

Dems To Arrange Next Inauguration

WASHINGTON, April 10 — (P)—Democrats will control the inauguration of the next President Jan. 20, no matter who is elected.

Vice President Barkley has appointed Sens. Hayden (D-Ariz), McFarland (D-Ariz) and Bridges

(R-NH) as members of a congressional committee to plan inauguration of the next President and vice-president. House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) will appoint the three House members later. They probably will be two Democrats and one Republican.

Nevada Paper Suing Senator

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 10 — (P)—Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) is the chief defendant in a $1 million damage suit which claims he is responsible for an advertising boycott against the Las Vegas Sun.

The complaint, filed Tuesday in federal court by the Sun's publisher, H. M. Greenspun, says the senator caused the boycott "to compel the editors to refrain from publishing detrimental statements" about him. Last March 22, the suit says, McCarran induced Marion B. Hicks, manager of the Tunderbird Hotel, to persuade the owners of 11 other hotels and gambling casinos to boycott the Sun.

Numbers Racket Bosses Nabbed

CLEVELAND, April 10 — (P)—Police have begun showing a little unfriendly interest in the policy and numbers racket which nets its operators an estimated $2 million a year here.

A newly launched anti-gambling drive by Lt. Martin P. Cooney's anti-vice squad had resulted in warrants charging seven chiefs of the rackets with being "common gamblers." If they are convicted, each can be fined up to $500 and jailed for up to 90 days. They also would be required to post $500 good-behavior bonds.

Easter Dinner May Cost Less

Eggs in Spotlight
But Price Steady

By Associated Press

Hams and turkeys for those festive Easter Sunday menus are being heavily stressed as good buys by most food stores for the rest of this week—and usually at prices a few cents below last week.

Eggs, of course, are in the Easter food spotlight too, but their price trend is less uniform.

Large white eggs, much in demand for coloring and for the children's Easter baskets, are up two cents a dozen from last week in many places. Mixed browns and whites have been reduced a cent or two by some markets.

Egg wholesalers in New York said the holiday demand for the large whites had pushed their prices a little out of line with other sizes. They anticipated a downward adjustment soon, but said it probably would not show up at retail until next week.

HAMS in the highly-competitive stores are generally about 10 cents a pound cheaper this week than a year ago, and turkeys are around six to eight cents a pound less.

Frying and broiling chickens were up about two cents a pound in many stores this week. Most beef, lamb, veal and pork cuts (other than hams) held about unchanged. Butter advanced around two cents a pound, chiefly because of generally heavier buying for Easter, although this rise was by no means unanimous.

Price changes were irregular on fresh produce items. Heavier shipments brought small price reductions in asparagus, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, spinach, oranges and grapefruit in many markets, while beets, broccoli, carrots, green corn, good iceberg lettuce, mushrooms, peas, large peppers, sweet potatoes, good quality apples and tangerines moved a little higher.

Scattered shortages of potatoes continued to be reported in several sections of the nation. The scarcity was blamed chiefly on a production decline last year resulting from withdrawal of government price supports.

Dutchman Cited For Contempt

WASHINGTON, April 10 — (P)—The House cited Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald for contempt of Congress Wednesday for "willful and deliberate refusal to talk about his mysterious connection with big-money cases figuring in tax scandal investigations."

By a rollcall vote of 332 to 0, the House whipped through the contempt citation with a minimum of discussion and without a voice being raised in his behalf. Grunewald, 59, whose reported friendships extend throughout Capitol Hill, would face a year in jail and $1,000 fine if convicted.

Nudists Can't Get Bare Essentials

LONDON, April 10 — (P)—The high cost of living in the nude has wiped out one fifth of the back-to-nature clubs in Britain since last summer.

This was reported by the Sunshine Press agency, a trade journal, which estimated the number of organized nudists in the United Kingdom now at a bare 50,000. It blamed the drop in membership on rising costs which have boosted dues from 10 to 15 per cent.

Wind Blows Pants 50 Miles Away

DECATURVILLE, Tenn., April 10 — (P)—A pair of trousers belonging to a man killed in the March 21 tornado that ravaged Henderson, Tenn., has been found near here, 50 miles from Henderson.

The pants belonged to Ford Hearn, one of 22 persons, including Hearn's wife, killed in the Henderson storm. Identification was made by a wallet in one of the pockets.

Doctor Indicted For Tax Evasion

CINCINNATI, April 10 — (P)—A 72-year-old Cincinnati radiologist is accused of evading $663,596 in income taxes.

Dr. Sidney Lange was named in a grand jury indictment as owing the more than $600,000 in the period from 1947 to 1951. The indictment stated that for the year 1947, Lange reported only $1,776.13 income tax on an income of $8,698.70 while his income actually was $508,154.01. The tax due was $413,864.33.

Frank Jenne Will Be Speaker At TB Meeting

Annual Association
Get Together Set
At Hotel Washington

Frank Jenne, assistant secretary of the Public Health Federation, will be the principal speaker at 6 P. M. Monday at the annual meeting of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association in the Hotel Washington.

The speaker will talk on ways of coordinating various health agencies.

Jenne is the secretary of the Health Education Council and the council on clinics and dispensaries.

He works closely with all other councils—heart, better housing, nutrition, long term illness, social hygiene, chronic disease, cancer, diabetes, mouth hygiene, tuberculosis and others.

Born in Grand Rapids, Mich., he is a 1942 graduate of Albion College. He did graduate work in chemistry at Western Reserve and at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

Jenne is affiliated with the Ohio Public Health Association, the American Public Health Association, the American School Health Association and the American Diabetes Association.

J. Paul Strevey, executive secretary of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association, said he expected some 30 or 40 persons out for the annual meeting.

Anyone wishing to attend the meeting is asked to contact Mr. Strevey.

Grand Jury Will Meet Here Monday

The April grand jury will meet Monday to take up at least a half dozen cases, including that of Harry Owens, charged with giving a worthless check for $1,051 for livestock.

Indications are that the session will last one day.

So far only six witnesses have been summoned by Acting Prosecutor John S. Bath. They are Eva Gladman, Harley Haggard, Guy Bond, Claude Smith, Albert Fryant and Herschel W. Taylor.

Magic Show Will Be Held By PTA Here

Under the sponsorship of the Central Parent Teachers Association, the Raymond Stephens Magic Show, featuring 35 acts, will be presented at 8:03 P. M., April 17 in the high school auditorium.

Proceeds of the two-hour show will go for local charities and for improvement in the Central School.

This year Stephens has added some new acts. He will feature acts involving sawing a girl in half, flight to Mars, enchanted handkerchief, trunk of nations and floating girl.

There will be a prediction of a headline in the Record-Herald about a week before it is printed. The prediction will be taken from a prediction chest which will be placed in the King-Kash furniture store well in advance of the show.

Reserved seats for the show are to be made available at Patton's Book Store this week.

The committee planning the magic show consists of: Mrs. Joseph M. Herbert, chairman, Mrs. Richard Steen and Mrs. Fuller Jefferson.

Announcement was made that the Central PTA will hold a candy sale at the show.

Drivers Sign Up In Safe Driving Program at WHS

Eighty-six student drivers have signed up as a part of the student registration program, which was set up by the Student Council and administration to promote safe driving.

Principal E. Wayne Titus said that student drivers have been so careful with their driving that only one session of the school court has had to be held.

Traffic offenders are cited into the court to answer to charges. Since the first session of the court, only two or three minor violations have been reported.

Stickers have been pasted by the student drivers on their automobile windshields, denoting that they are properly registered to drive cars to and from WHS.

Leges and Secondary Schools. The local high school was again placed on the list at a business meeting of the association held in Chicago near the end of March. Each year every school in the association must submit a report and conform to the regulations of the governing body.

Four Speeders Face Charges

Three of Them
Picked Up at Once

Three speeders were rounded up at one time on U. S. Route 62 (Columbus Road) Wednesday afternoon, and a fourth was added to the list a short time later.

It was a bright afternoon and some drivers were found to be stepping on the gas too heavily.

When the patrolmen turned one speeder they found themselves after three, instead of one, in the heavy traffic.

When one of the speeding cars passed another vehicle, the second and third cars followed dashing around cars mobbing within the speed limit.

At the edge of Mt. Sterling the three drivers were rounded up and charges filed in mayor's court at Mt. Sterling. All were doing 75 miles per hour or more, officers said.

The three rounded up at the same time were Leslie Penn, 41, Greenfield; Joanna C. Brown, 22, Cincinnati and Charles L. Eppinger, Cincinnati. All posted $15 bond in Mayor Roscoe Friddle's court.

A short time later officers said Willard D. Chubb, 27, Columbus, was halted at 80 miles. He paid

Lions Win First Track Meet

Victory Taken In Photo Finish At Wilmington

The Washington C. H. High School track team won its opening meet of the season, 61 to 57, in a photo finish at Wilmington Wednesday afternoon, but today it faced its next meet with the loss of three of its regulars.

Although the Wilmington boys captured the first places in seven individual events, the Washington C. H. athletes more than offset that with five firsts and victories in both of the relay events.

Haynes paced the Wilmington squad with three firsts. Carl Smith won two for the Lions. But, there was no monopoly on achievement on either team.

The most exciting event of the meet was the mile run in which Bailey of the Lions set a fast pace all the way, only to be nipped at the tape by Flint of the Hurricane.

The Lions gained their biggest advantage by taking both of the relays, for those are sacred on a winner-take-all basis.

COACH CURT KOONS came back from the meet with mixed reactions of joy and sorrow.

He made no attempt to conceal his joy over the victory in the opening meet and he was all smiles over the competitive spirit and sportsmanship displayed by his thinned charges.

And, of the meet transferred from here to Wilmington because the Gardner Park track could not be put in shape during the wet weather, he said, "I just can't say enough for the fine time we had at Wilmington and the good sportsmanship of our hosts. Bob Priddy (the Wilmington coach) is a fine gentleman as well as an athlete in his own right."

But he was sad over the loss of Dick Waters, Charles Holbrook and Joe Provost for an indefinite period. Waters, who was entered in the pole vault, discus throw and shot put, literally dropped to the ground as he was starting his vaulting run. Brought to the hospital here for X-ray examination after the meet, he was found to have suffered a chipped pelvic or hip bone. Indications were, it was said, that it was a recurrence of the old injury he suffered in football at Bexley last fall.

Holbrook, the coach said, would be sidelined with a throat infection that he feared might be the forerunner of a tonsillectomy, and Provost is going to be laid up with a foot infection.

Koons said it was doubtful if any of the three would get back in action this spring.

The Lions' next certain meet is slated for April 21 when the Circleville and Hillsboro teams are to come here for a triangular meet. However, Koons said he was trying to book a dual meet with Circleville or some other team for April 17.

THE MEET AT Wilmington was scored: 5 points for first, 3 for second and 1 for third places. In the following summary are given the events, the time or distance in parenthesis, and the name and school of the participants.

120-yd. high hurdle (16:1)—1. Haynes (Wil), 2. Deering (Wash), 3. Banks (Wil).

BOB DEERING won the 180-yard low hurdle race for the WHS Lions (top photo) from Brooks of the Hurricane in a driving finish at Wilmington Wednesday afternoon.

Roger (Skip) Allen of Washington C. H. won the high jump (lower photo) with a leap of 4 feet, 9 inches.

Redleg Pilot Not Talkative About Fielders

RICHMOND, Ind., April 10—When it comes to the Cincinnati Reds, the management would much rather have the talk turn to the pitching. Let's just leave the fielding and hitting out of it.

Skipper Luke Sewell said flatly of his moundmen Wednesday, It's the best pitching staff I ever had."

"Wehmeier, Blackwell and Rafensberger are in great shape. They look as good now as they did in the last half of the 1951 campaign. Frank Hiller should prove to be even a better spot pitcher for use than Willie Ramsdell did last year."

And Harry Perkowski wasn't left out of the conversation. Luke said he was sold on the Virginian.

Rafensberger, the Reds' balding but brainy pitcher, pitched seven innings against the Washington Senators in Charleston, W. Va., in an exhibition Wednesday and allowed only four hits, but young Niles Jordan was credited with the 3-2 Cincinnati victory.

Raffy only gave up two singles in the first five innings, but in the sixth Clyde Klutz singled and pinch-hitter Pete Runnels tripled to center. A long fly brought in Runnels to tie the score at 2-all. Cincinnati had scored one run in the second on singles by Bobby Adams, Andy Seminick and Roy McMillan and brought in its second run in the fifth on two singles and Ted Kluszewski's double.

Successful singles by Bob Borowski, McMillan and Grady Hatton provided the winning Redleg runs in the eighth.

The Reds leave off from their nine-game exhibition series with Washington to play the Toledo Mudhens here Thursday.

Navy Gets Martin

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 10—Jack Martin, 29, of Toledo, was named assistant football coach at the U. S. Naval Academy Wednesday. Martin, graduate of the academy in 1945, played professional football three years.

Indians Set Up Video Broadcasts

CLEVELAND, April 10—When the Cleveland Indians open against the White Sox in Chicago next Tuesday, television fans will get their report of the game from Bob Neal and Nicholas Jones.

A brewing company, sponsors of the TV games over WXEL in Cleveland, WSPD in Toledo and WTVN in Columbus, has picked Neal and Jones as broadcasters. A Dayton television station also may complete arrangements to carry the Tribe games.

Columbus video followers won't see the opener in Chicago because their own Red Birds play at home that day.

The Cleveland Barons hold the American Hockey League playoff records for most overtime games played—20, and the most extra period wins—13.

Letters To Editor

Washington C. H., Ohio
April 9, 1952

Editor
Record-Herald
Dear Sir:

Through your column I would like to let the citizens of Washington C. H. know that the majority of the working women in the community feel disgusted and humiliated by the show put on by the "Good Natured Pickets" parading in front of The Ohio Bell Telephone office, asking for more wages and better working conditions from a company which is well known for its good pay and for the benefits offered its workers.

It is a struggle for most of us to keep our heads above the water but rather than let a few radicals tell us what to do we are standing by our employers and expecting through our loyalty and ability to profit in more settled times. We are working for our bread and butter and expect to hold our jobs through our own initiative and not be propped up by any Union, CIO or otherwise.

While these girls, dressed in their slacks, with their hair blowing in the wind and a smile on their faces made a pretty picture and provided a curiosity for the passersby, I can not help but think that they have done themselves and their sex more harm than time will repair.

For the past several decades women have struggled to win a place in the business world and have put forth great effort to prove their capabilities, but a demonstration such as has been going on in front of The Ohio Bell Telephone office for the past few days can undo all that has been done.

It is my suggestion that these dissatisfied "working women" go back to their kitchens, their husbands and families and leave the business world to the ones of us who have to work for our existence and not for extra spending money and luxuries.

(Signed)
Disgusted Working Woman

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Phone Service Is Normal Here

Most of Operators Are Still on Job

Normal telephone service was still being maintained here as the nationwide strike went into the fourth day, with increasing pressure by the union to spread and increase its effects.

Paul Dougherty, Ohio Bell Telephone Co. manager in Washington C. H., described the situation on Thursday morning as "status quo"—inferring no changes since the walkout started Monday.

The smiling and good humored girls who picketed the East Court Street office and exchange the first two days failed to show up Thursday morning, the second in a row. Dougherty said 60 percent of the operators were still on the job and, with the help of some supervisory personnel, had handled all of the calls. He emphasized that none of them had worked overtime, because of the help they got from the supervisors.

ALL OF THE installation, maintenance and repair crewmen were reported working on regular schedule. The same went for the office staff, too.

In spite of the strike, an overseas call to Japan was put through without unusual delay Wednesday, the manager said. It was from Mrs. Roy Tanner to her husband. Dougherty said that when he checked on the service with Mrs. Tanner she told him that "everything was just swell...there was no long wait." The only interference she had, Mrs. Tanner said, was when a Japanese got on the line (possibly in the Tokyo exchange by mistake). She said she could not understand that language and added, "but that was only for a few seconds."

The principal concern over the strike here was for the long distance service, and that was more because of how the increasing union pressure might affect other exchanges than for conditions here. With the maintenance men on the job here, the dial, or so-called automatic, system in Washington C. H., was functioning smoothly.

Progress Made In This County In Conservation

Area Still Lags With Program, Soil Board Says

Steady progress has been made to keep the rich soils of Fayette County from washing down streams, but the county lags behind many of the southern Ohio counties in adopting wide soil conservation practices.

This was brought out at the annual meeting of the Fayette Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors Wednesday night in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Webber French, a member of the board, reported that in the four years that this county has had a soil conservation district 133 farm plans for 30,613 acres of land have been written.

"We have a lot to do here," French told the group while presenting the list of accomplishments of the conservation district.

NEED FOR developing conservation plans, which will mean increased production for the farmer, were urged by the principal speaker of the evening, Dave Herman, assistant state soil conservationist.

Herman told the group that farmers of this country must prepare for a population increase of about 38,000,000 persons by 1975. He said the population is being added to by 7,000 persons a day.

With little chance of increasing the present useable acreage of 460,000,000, this means, the speaker said, that farmers will have to adopt better farming methods so that they can increase the "bushel production" on their farms.

WHILE THE FARMERS spent most of their time discussing ways of improving soils of this county, they took time out to elect Frank Sollars and Robert Jackson to the soil board for three-year terms. Justin Owens is stepping down from the unpaid position of a soil supervisor. Sollars, who is the chairman of the board, chose to run again.

A panel comprised of Jackson, James Wagner, Willard Bitzer and Ralph Penn brought much practical information before the joint meeting of the agronomy committee of the extension service and the soil supervisors.

JACKSON DESCRIBED how soil conservation practices put into use on the rolling Alpha Farms in the eastern part of this county have started to pay off. He told how terracing practices set up on one heavily eroded field for the county field day have stopped erosion. Bitzer, prominent sheep man in this county, described how a four-year rotation on his farm would probably prove most ideal for other farms in the county.

Wagner told the group that there was still room for a great increase in farm production in this county, and he presented figures to back up his contention. He told how the agronomy committee is bringing the latest experiments of the Extension Station at Wooster to the farms.

PENN TOLD about how soil conservation plans put into effect on his farms should bring additional returns of at least $5 an acre. He also described the work of the Fayette Friends of the Land chapter, telling how it gets people interested in conservation with out government compulsion, subsidies and payments.

Herman emphasized that there is a challenge "to find out what makes the farmer tick" where he can be appealed to—so that you can get over the idea of conservation to him."

He spoke of the need for meeting the U. S. department of agriculture production goals this year by not increasing acreage but by the production per acre.

For instance, the speaker said farmers may not agree with the government's program for overseas relief but he said it still needs more farm products. And he brought out the point that military men use more food each day than they did when they were in civilian life.
